Reader 2: What would the world be like if we each stopped helping people in need? (blow out one candle)

Reader 3: What would the world be like if we each stopped living by the Girl Scout Law? (blow out one candle)

Reader 4: What would the world be like if we chose to be dishonest and self-serving? (blow out one candle)

Reader 5: What would the world be like if we didn't care enough about ourselves or others to always do our best? (blow out one candle)

Reader 6: What would the world be like if we gave into gossip, and didn't respect each other? (blow out one candle)

Reader 7: What would the world be like if we didn't help build girls of courage, confidence, and character? (blow out one candle)

Leader: If we choose this path, our world becomes very dark. (Pause)
But I make a commitment today to live by the Girl Scout promise and law, because I want to make a difference for good in this world! Who else wants to renew her commitment to the Girl Scout Promise and Law? (All light candles)
May our lights shine and may we brighten our world!

Leader: Would the new leaders please step inside the circle? (pause)
In Girl Scout tradition, returning leaders will surround them with wisdom. (pause)
Please pin the new leaders with their Girl Scout pin, upside down until they do the traditional 3 good deeds. (pause for everyone to be pinned)

Would you all join me in the Girl Scout Promise and Law.

Let us all join in singing "Whene'er You Make a Promise." (or "Make New Friends")
